A. Description of the Advisory Firm

Wisdom Index Advisors (hereinafter "WI") offers personalized wealth management and investment consulting solutions for select individuals, corporations, trusts, pension, profit-sharing plans, estates, charitable organizations, and small businesses.

WI was founded on July 27, 2004, and registered with the Securities Exchange Commission.

As a result of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act ("Dodd-Frank Act"), Financial Innovations LLC switched from SEC oversight to the State Securities Board as of March 31, 2012, and back to SEC on May 8, 2019.

Principal Owners

Michael J. Davidson is the only firm principal and is a 100% stockholder.

B. Types of Advisory Services

WI offers wealth management solutions to customers (hereinafter "Clients" or "Client") by combining investment management services and advanced planning services.

Investment Management Services

WI implements portfolio and investment management services based upon Nobel-prize winning academic research utilizing primarily market-based investment strategies and long-term holding periods. Differentiated from traditional investment management, where the primary objective is to beat the market by stock picking or market timing, WI directs Client investments by applying the following financial principles:

 Markets Work Efficiently

 Risk and Expected Return are Related

 Market Dimensions Have Different Risk Factors

 Asset Allocation Determines Risk & Expected Return

 Investing Requires Time

 Investing Requires Rebalancing

Investment management services are facilitated by creating and implementing an Investment Policy Statement (IPS). The IPS includes information about the Client, including values, accomplishments, key relationships, feelings about risk, balance sheet information, other advisors, and financial goals. The IPS is a key component of the overall plan and helps communicate and implement the investment strategy.

WI analysis methods utilize resources from commercially available software packages, market rating services, general market data, and financial publications. WI also benefits from economists affiliated with Dimensional Fund Advisors (DFA) economic expertise and investment knowledge. Though we approach a client account with a holistic view, we subscribe to mainly focus on open-ended mutual funds to provide diversity to clients' portfolios by using DFA and Vanguard mutual funds.

Advanced Planning Services – Wisdom Index®

On more than an occasional basis, WI furnishes advice to Clients on matters not involving securities, such as financial planning matters, taxation concerns, life insurance, retirement planning, college planning, debt/credit planning, and stewardship consulting. Typically, these areas are covered in the creation of the Client (IPS) but may also be addressed in developing a client Wisdom Index®. The Wisdom Index® may include, but is not limited to: a net worth statement; a cash flow statement; a review of investment accounts, including reviewing asset allocation and providing repositioning recommendations; strategic tax planning; a review of retirement accounts and plans, including recommendations; a review of insurance policies and recommendations for changes, if necessary; one or more retirement scenarios; estate planning review and advice; and education planning with funding recommendations.

The first Client meeting, called a Discovery Meeting, is free of charge and is considered an exploratory interview to determine how financial planning and investment management may benefit the Client. The next step is the development of the draft Wisdom Index® and IPS. After that, WI will work closely with the Client and their other advisors to implement the necessary next steps.

Retirement Plan Services

WI offers services to qualified retirement plans utilizing the same investment management approach for individual clients. Typically, this involves analyzing current plan investments, building investment policy statements and creating model portfolios for plan participants. In addition, WI may serve as an "investment manager" to these plans.

C. Tailored Relationships and Client Imposed Restrictions

Client goals and objectives are documented in a custom Client profile and stored in our Client relationship management system. Custom Investment Policy Statements contain stated goals, values, feelings about risk, and objectives. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in specific securities or types of industries.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

WI does not participate in any wrap fee programs.

E. Assets Under Management

As of 12/31/2021, WI manages approximately $169,343,108 in assets on a discretionary basis, and $0 is managed on a non-discretionary basis. A discretionary basis includes the Client authorizing WI to manage Client accounts within the chosen investment strategy; therefore, WI is responsible for determining which trades to make.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

A. Advisory Services Compensation Description

Investment Advisory Services Fees

WI manages Client accounts on a discretionary basis, with limited authority to make Client trades and deduct advisory fees. Fees are calculated based upon the following tiered and blended annual schedule but maybe be negotiated on a case-by-case basis:

	Managed Assets*	Annual Fee
First $500,000	$0 - $499,999	1.0 %
Next $500,000	$500,000—$999,999	0.9 %
Next $500,000	$1,000,000—$1,499,999	0.8 %
Next $500,000	$1,500,000—$1,999,999	0.7 %
Next $3,000,000	$2,000,000—$5,000,000	0.5 %
	$5,000,000—and Up	Negotiable

Client fees are calculated on the gross value of Client account(s) under management at the end of the month and are debited quarterly or monthly at the beginning of each quarter or month. Billing is generally done monthly in advance. IN ALL CASES, the Client can terminate the agreement at any time, for any reason, and any prepaid fees will be refunded on a pro-rated basis. To refund pro-rated fees, WI will need to have written and signed authorization from the Client that the agreement is terminated.

* WI desires new Client relationships to be greater than $500,000. Client relationships less than $500,000 will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

 Fees are calculated on the tiered and blended schedule of managed assets and are debited quarterly or monthly in advance. For example, the First $500,000 is charged at 1% and the next $500,000 is charged at 0.9%, etc.

Advanced Planning Fees

In addition to asset-based fees, WI may charge hourly fees for developing wealth management plans, written financial plans, or consultations on an hourly basis not to exceed $250/hour. These fees are negotiable and agreed to in writing by the Client.

B. Payment of Fees

Investment management fees are generally withdrawn directly from Client accounts with written Client authorization monthly or quarterly, in advance. In addition, the Client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account. Client accounts are valued on the last day of the month or quarter.

If the account is a qualified plan for a business and the business would like to pay fees directly, WI will send an invoice to the business either monthly or quarterly.

Advanced planning fees are paid by the Client after services have been delivered.

C. Third-Party/Custodian Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of stocks, bonds, certain mutual funds, and exchange-traded funds. Clients are responsible for the payment of all third-party fees. These fees are separate and distinct from fees charged by WI. Currently, TD Ameritrade charges $0.0 for equity trades, $9.99 for Dimensional Fund Trades, and $24.99 for Vanguard Fund trades. Please see Item 12 of this brochure regarding broker/custodian.

Expense Ratios

Mutual funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.20 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.2% for its services. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by Clients to WI.

Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted. Wisdom Index Advisors recommends that Clients read all investment prospectuses for mutual fund details.

D. Prepayment of Fees

WI collects fees in advance. Should a Client decide to terminate the agreement with WI, fees will be refunded based on the pro-rated amount of work completed at the point of termination and the total days during the billing period. WI will require a signed letter in writing from the Client to terminate the agreement so that fees can be refunded.

In addition, WI reserves the right to terminate any Client agreement where a Client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate or if WI believes Client might be better served with a different advisor.

E. Outside Compensation for Sale of Securities to Clients

Neither WI nor its supervised persons accept any compensation for the sale of securities or investment products, including asset-based sales charges or services fees from the sale of mutual funds. Receiving outside compensation for investments or securities provides a conflict of interest.

Clients may have the option to purchase investment products that we recommend through other brokers or agents unaffiliated with WI. WI will disclose any conflict of interest with a Client in writing.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees

WI does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. In addition, performance-based compensation may incentivize the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the Client.

Item 7: Types of Clients

A. Description

WI generally provides investment advice and advanced planning to the following types of Clients:

 Individuals

 Trusts

 Charities/Not for Profits

 High Net Worth Individuals

 Profit-Sharing & Pension Plans

 Corporations/Estate

Account Minimums

Typically, the minimum account size is $500,000 of assets under management, equating to an annual fee of $5,000.

Generally, WI will require new Client accounts to be greater than $500,000. However, client account values less than $500,000 will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis

WI analysis methods utilize resources from commercially available software packages, market rating services, general market data, and financial publications. WI also benefits from economists affiliated with Dimensional Fund Advisors (DFA) economic expertise and investment knowledge.

B. Investment Strategies

Markets throughout the world have historically rewarded investors for the capital they supply. As a result, companies compete for investment capital, while investors compete with each other to find the most attractive returns for their capital. This fierce competition helps to drive prices to fair value or towards price equilibrium.

Security prices change every day as they incorporate new information about changes in expectations and opinions of all market participants. Because the current price of an individual security reflects all available information, WI believes the current price is typically the best approximation of actual value.

Traditional investment management tries to take advantage of current pricing "mistakes" by speculating on future prices. While often a costly exercise for the conventional market investor, this is excellent news for the long-term investor. It means that prices for public securities are fair and that persistent differences in average returns are explained by differences in average risk.

WI rejects speculation, forecasting, and guessing. Instead, we focus on understanding where the risk comes from and continually monitoring how much to take. To have real expected returns, investors must take a real risk. Risk is the possibility that an investor may lose money.

In theory, risk-free investments do exist. T-bills (1-month or 3-month) are commonly used to benchmark these risk-free returns for US investors. Although T-bills are very conservative investments, they do actually carry some investment risk in practice.

Investing in anything with an expected return greater than T-bills assumes real investment risk.

When investing in equities (stocks), there are many risks investors should avoid, but the following are three risk factors that investors should consider:

Market Risk – Equity/stock markets are riskier than credit markets (bonds); therefore, stocks have greater expected returns than bonds.

Size Risk – Smaller company stocks are riskier than larger companies; therefore, small companies have higher expected returns than large ones.

Price Risk – Growth stocks have a higher share price than value stocks relative to book value or earnings. Investors are generally willing to pay more per share for more established or "healthy" companies. Investing in lower-priced stocks generally provides greater upside compensation as these companies' prices reflect higher underlying risk.

WI uses asset-class funds and index funds to build global equity portfolios to capture these risks and expected returns. As with equities, fixed-income securities' risk and expected return are also related. Understanding this relationship enables investors to plan their portfolio's total risk/return profile. The two primary risk factors that we consider when looking at fixed income are:

Maturity – Longer-term bonds are riskier than shorter-term bonds. They are more sensitive to changes in interest rates.

Default – Bonds with lower credit quality are riskier than bonds with higher credit quality.

WI believes that increasing bond portfolio durations generally provide smaller incremental returns with higher incremental risk.

WI uses asset-class funds and index funds to build global fixed-income portfolios focusing on shorter-term, high-quality (investment grade) instruments. Generally, the aggregate duration is less than five years.

C. Risk of Specific Securities

WI builds globally diversified equity and fixed-income portfolios with over 12,000 positions invested in over 40 countries. Clients will be subject to the following risks when investing in globally diversified portfolios.

Financial risk: The companies we recommend to you perform poorly, affecting your investment price.

Market Risk: That the stock market will decline, decreasing the value of the securities we recommend to you with it.

Inflation Risk: The rate of price increases in the economy deteriorates the returns associated with client portfolios.

Political and Governmental Risk: The value of your investment will be affected by the introduction of new laws or regulations.

Interest Rate Risk: The value of the investments we recommend to you will fall if interest rates rise.

Call risk: Your investment will be called or purchased back from you when conditions are favorable to the bond issuer and unfavorable to you.

Default Risk: The issuer is unable to pay the contractual interest or principal on the investment promptly or at all.

Manager Risk: An actively managed mutual fund's investment adviser will fail to execute the fund's stated investment strategy.

Industry Risk: The stocks in a single industry will decline in price due to adverse developments in that industry, decreasing the value of mutual funds significantly invested in that industry.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Legal and Disciplinary

The firm and its employees have not been involved in legal or disciplinary events related to past or present investment Clients.

C. Relationships Material to this Advisory Business and Possible Conflicts of Interests

The only compensation that Wisdom Index Advisors receives is from our clients directly. WI advisors may be appointed with one or more life insurance companies to serve existing client policies.

D. Selection of Other Advisors

WI does not utilize nor select other advisors or third-party managers.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

WI has developed a code of ethics that will apply to all of our supervised persons. Our IARs and we must act in a fiduciary capacity when providing investment advisory services to you. As a fiduciary, it is an investment adviser's responsibility to provide fair and full disclosure of all material facts and act solely in the best interest of each of our clients. WI has a fiduciary duty to all clients. This fiduciary duty is considered the core underlying principle of our code of ethics, which also covers our insider trading, personal securities transactions policies, and procedures to protect the Client's private identifiable information. We require all of our supervised persons to conduct business with the highest ethical standards and comply with all federal and state securities laws. Upon employment or affiliation and at least annually after that, all supervised persons will acknowledge that they have read, understand, and agree to comply with our Code of Ethics. Our Code of Ethics is available to clients and prospective clients upon request.

B. Recommendations Involving Material Financial Interests

WI does not recommend to Clients or buy or sell for Client accounts securities in which WI or a related person has a material financial interest.

C. Investing in Same Securities as Clients

WI representatives invest in the same securities they recommend to Clients. This is not a conflict of interest as these securities are public mutual funds, index funds, and exchange-traded funds.

D. Trading Securities At/Around the Same Time as Clients' Securities

The Chief Compliance Officer of WI is Michael Davidson. He reviews all employee trades each quarter. In addition, the client experience manager reviews his trades. The personal trading reviews ensure that employees' personal trading does not affect the markets and that Clients of the firm receive preferential treatment. Most trades are mutual funds or exchange-traded funds, which

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

A. Factors Considered in Selecting Custodians and/or Broker/Dealers

Brokerage fees, including account fees, trading costs, and fund availability, are primary factors used to consider a custodian.

1. Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits.

Both WI and Clients receive access to research, trading software, and services from custodians from fees the Client pays in connection with Client securities transactions. Although not considered "soft dollar" compensation, WI and Clients receive benefits from TD Ameritrade in the form of reports, software, and institutional trading support. WI generally does not produce or pay for such research, products, or services from custodians, and these services that WI receives from custodians benefit all WI Clients.

WI does not have any affiliation with product sales firms. Instead, WI recommends discount brokerage firms and trust companies (qualified custodians), such as TD Ameritrade. WI does not receive fees or commissions from any of these arrangements.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals

WI receives no referrals from a broker-dealer or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.

3. Directed Brokerage

a. Currently, WI uses TD AMERITRADE Institutional, a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. Member FINRA/SIPC for custody and brokerage. WI will review on an annual basis the best execution of transactions. The procedures for this review are documented in the WI Compliance Manual. In addition, trading fees charged by the custodians are monitored regularly and are also reviewed on an annual basis. WI does not receive any portion of the trading fees.

By directing brokerage to TD AMERITRADE, Clients may pay higher fees or transaction costs than those obtainable by other broker-dealers or custodians, and the adviser may not be able to achieve the most favorable execution for client transactions. Not all Investment Advisers require their clients to use a direct brokerage. WI believes that our Clients are paying a discounted and reasonable rate. You may pay higher or lower fees if you select another broker-dealer. Generally, we will not negotiate lower rates below the rates established by the executing broker-dealer for this type of directed brokerage account unless we believe that such rates are unfair or unreasonable for the size and type of transaction. We believe that TD AMERITRADE charges a competitive commission on transactions they handle for us that are reasonable and customary.

b. Currently, WI does not allow clients to direct brokerage.

B. Trade Aggregation

Typically, trades made at TD Ameritrade are mutual funds or exchange-traded funds where trade aggregation does not garner any client benefit. However, we attempt to allocate trade executions in the most equitable manner possible, considering current asset allocation and availability of funds using price averaging, proration, and consistently non-arbitrary methods of allocation. For example, we may aggregate orders to obtain best execution, negotiate more favorable commission rates, or allocate equitably among our clients' differences in prices and commission or other transaction costs. In aggregated orders, transactions will be price-averaged and allocated among our clients in proportion to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client account on any given day.

In seeking the best execution, the determinative factor is not always the lowest possible commission or transaction cost but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative value, considering the full range of a Custodian's services, including the value of research execution capability, commission rates, and responsiveness. Therefore, WI will seek competitive commission rates, but we may not obtain the lowest possible commission rates for account transactions.

Specific custodian recommendations are made to Clients based on their need for such services.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

A. Periodic Review of Client Accounts/Financial Plans

Client accounts are reviewed at least quarterly. Each business day, a tolerance test is performed to determine if Client accounts are "out of balance" from the target portfolio. The Investment Policy Statement is reviewed with the Client during Client meetings.

B. Review Triggers

If a Client portfolio moves outside of asset-class tolerances, WI will receive a notice that the portfolio is outside of tolerance. This notification will trigger a portfolio review. This tolerance test is performed each business day.

C. Regular Reports

Each Client will receive monthly statements from the Custodian. WI also maintains a Client portal where Clients can run reports on a daily basis. WI posts additional reports to Client portals on a monthly and quarterly basis.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Economic Benefits Provided by Third Parties

WI does not receive any economic benefit directly or indirectly from any third party for advice rendered to Clients.

B. Referrals Out

WI does not have any referral programs or compensate others for referrals. WI is aware of the special considerations promulgated pursuant to Rule 206(4)-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. As such, appropriate disclosure shall be made, all written instruments will be maintained by WI and all applicable Federal and/or State laws will be observed.

Item 15: Custody

WI does not have custody of any accounts. We use TD AMERITRADE as the primary Custodian and/or broker-dealer for all client accounts. Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker-dealer or Custodian that holds and maintains their investment assets. We urge Clients to carefully review such statements and compare this official custodial record to the account statements that we may provide. Our statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities. If a Client notices any discrepancies, they should contact Michael Davidson at (972) 931-0063.

Through the custodian interface, WI will debit Client fees directly from the Client's advisory account. The Custodian will provide the Client with immediate transaction confirmations and monthly statements, either by mail or electronically. Monthly statements list the total value of the account at the start and end of the month and itemize all transactions and security positions. For taxable accounts, the Custodian will provide the Client with consolidated year-end summary statements, including IRS forms 1099 and other tax-related forms, as applicable. WI is not allowed to make alterations or amendments to the Custodian's statement. This separation preserves the integrity of the Custodian's statement and provides the Client with an independent appraisal of the account.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Discretionary trading authority facilitates placing trades in Client accounts on Client's behalf so that WI may promptly implement the investment policy the Client has approved in writing. WI accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of Clients. Without obtaining specific Client consent, WI has the authority to determine the securities to be bought or sold and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. However, if the account is set up as non-discretionary, WI consults with the Client prior to each trade to obtain concurrence if a blanket trading authorization has not been given.

Client provides this authority by approving WI for limited power of attorney for trading on related sections of custodial new account forms.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

A. Proxy Votes

WI does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies. When assistance on voting proxies is requested, WI will provide recommendations to the Client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client.

B. Proxy Authority

WI does not have the authority to vote proxies. Clients will receive their proxies or solicitations directly from their Custodian or transfer agent.

Item 18: Financial Information

A. Financial Condition

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because WI does not serve as a custodian for Client funds or securities and does not require prepayment of fees of more than $600 per Client six months or more in advance.

B. Discretionary Authority or Custody

WI does not have any financial impairment that will preclude the firm from meeting contractual commitments to Clients.

C. Bankruptcy Petitions in Previous Ten Years

WI has not been the subject of any bankruptcy petition.
